COMMANDER IN CHIEF U. S. ATLANTIC FLEET

1 September 1988

Dear Judge Webster,

Thank you for a most interesting and particularly useful visit to your Agency. It was a distinct pleasure to be with you again and to share your unique perspective on issues of mutual concern.

I came away from my day at your Headquarters with a profound respect for the people I met and for the contribution they make to our nations' security. As I assume my new responsibilities, it is comforting to recognize the professional capabilities that the Central Intelligence Agency makes available to a Unified Commander.

I look forward to maintaining a dynamic relationship between CIA and the Atlantic Command.

Very respectfully,

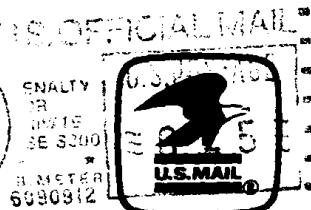

FRANK B. KELSO, II
Admiral, U. S. Navy

COMMANDER IN CHIEF U. S. ATLANTIC FLEET

22 June 1988

Dear Judge Webster,

I appreciate your kind letter of 8 June with respect to my next assignment. As a Unified Commander, I will rely on the support of the national intelligence community even more so than I do now.

Toward that end, I accept with pleasure your invitation to visit CIA Headquarters. I suggest I visit you on Tuesday, 30 August. My action officer for this visit will be Captain David J. McMunn, USN, who served as your escort during your visit to Norfolk. He will be in touch with General Budge's office to discuss specific details.

It was my pleasure to host you on your visit to the Atlantic Fleet. I look forward to my visit to Langley.

Very respectfully,

FRANK B. KELSO, II
Admiral, U. S. Navy

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

VIA: Deputy Director of Central Intelligence
Chairman, National Intelligence Council

FROM: MG Larry D. Budge, USA
National Intelligence Officer for General Purpose Forces

SUBJECT: Visits of Newly Appointed Military Commanders to CIA

1. As a part of your effort to improve intelligence support to the military commands, I propose that newly appointed Commanders in Chief of the major military commands be invited to the CIA prior to assuming command for discussions and briefings in their area of interest. This will allow us to inform them early on in their command tours of our capabilities and the support which we can provide to them and their commands. If your schedule permits, an office call would also be scheduled to provide you the opportunity to meet with them.

2. So far this spring, the following three new Commanders in Chiefs have been appointed:

Admiral Huntington Hardisty, currently serving as Vice Chief of Naval Operations, appointed as Commander in Chief Pacific.

Admiral Frank B. Kelso II, currently serving as Commander in Chief Atlantic Fleet, appointed as Commander in Chief Atlantic and Supreme Allied Commander Atlantic.

Lieutenant General Crosbie E. Saint, currently serving as Commander III Corps, promoted to General and appointed as Commander in Chief, US Army Europe and Seventh Army.

All of these officers will take up their new appointments sometime this summer.

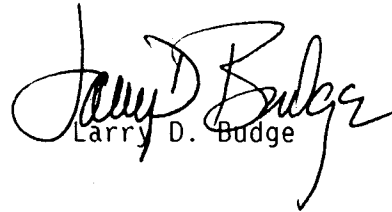

DCI
EXEC
REG

B-806-11

3. This initiative also supports the efforts of General Gorman and the Military Advisory Panel to emphasize the Intelligence Community's support of the major military commands.

4. Recommendation: That you sign the attached letters inviting the newly appointed Commanders in Chiefs to visit CIA.

Larry D. Budge

Dear Admiral Hardisty:

Please accept my congratulations on your appointment as Commander in Chief Pacific Command and also my best wishes for a successful and productive tour of duty in a challenging assignment.

The Intelligence Community is looking forward to providing you with intelligence support. Toward this end, I would like to extend an invitation to you to visit CIA Headquarters to meet with senior officers. We would like to learn about your requirements at first hand and provide briefings as desired.

I hope that this will be the first of many discussions addressing the subject of intelligence support to your command. I have asked Major General Larry D. Budge, U S Army, my National Intelligence Officer for General Purpose Forces, to coordinate arrangements for your visit. Please feel free to have your staff contact Major General Budge at [REDACTED]
